Iraqi Academic Scientific Journals (IASJ)

By Dominique Akhoun-Schwarz | December 6, 2012 | Middle East, Central Asia & Islamica | 0 comments

The Ministry of Higher Education & Scientific Research of Iraq is pleased to announce the launch of the new service "Iraqi Academic Scientific Journals" (IASJ).

IASJ is one platform where all scholarly journals published by the Iraqi universities and research institutions are indexed and discovered. All journals in IASJ are peer-reviewed and open access.

Most of the contents are in Arabic, though searching and browsing in English is possible thanks to translated titles. At the moment IASJ is launched in a Beta version with only 71 journals published by 18 institutions. The service will be further developed and will cover all journals, more than 200 journals publisher by 40 academic institutions in Iraq.

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Iraqi Virtual Science Library (IVSL). The browser address bar displays "https://ivsl.org". The page features a header with the IVSL logo, the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research logo, and the text "العراقية الافتراضية العلمية" (Iraqi Virtual Science Library). A large banner below the header reads "Welcome to the IRAQ Virtual Science Library" and includes an image of the Iraqi flag and various scientific icons. On the left side, there is a blue sidebar menu with the following items: "About IVSL", "Partners", "Participating Institutions", "Terms & Conditions", "IVSL Registration", "Feedback", "Login", "Forgot my account info", and "عربي". The main content area has a "welcome." section with a paragraph: "The Iraq Virtual Science Library - IVSL provides free, full-text access to thousands of scientific journals to which the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research is subscribing to from major publishers as well as a large collection of on-line educational materials. IVSL is powered by the discovery system LibHub provided by SemperTool, a company specialized in building digital library products." To the right of the welcome section is an "Announcement" box with a green header, containing a bullet point: "The Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research is pleased to announce the relaunch of the Iraq Virtual Science Library - IVSL service. The ministry is currently negotiating with a number of leading scientific publishers to include their content into IVSL." At the bottom right of the page, there are links for "Home" and "Contact".
